Approved Services: English Language Arts ScopeEssay Writing: is perhaps the strongest aspect of our program. Our teachers model different genres of essays for our students before we ask them to compose their own. Narratives, Expository Essays, Argumentative Essays, Analytical Responses, and Research Reports will all be expected of our students. On average, our students write about 12 essays during the school year. Read and Response: is another key aspect of our curriculum. The goal is for every student to read all of the compositions in their respective anthology books and answers the response questions that accompany them. Our lower grade students use Journeys and our Middle/High School students use Collections. Our tutors explain difficult passages to students for comprehension and check their answers afterward.Grammar: We explore many different aspects of grammar. We spend a majority of our time on syntax and diagramming sentences. We also practice editing and learning key grammatical terms. Vocabulary: All students will be required to complete a grade-appropriate Wordly Wise 3000 workbook. There are many core exercises that will familiarize the students with proper test-taking techniques. Poetry: is the most unique aspect of our program. Not only do we study classical poems in depth, but we also memorize at least five a year. Some of our students were able to accomplish more than that. After memorization is complete, we make sure to test our students on recognizing poetic devices and how well they understand the theme.Math ScopeIntermediate Level: Basic Arithmetic, Pre-AlgebraAdvanced Level: Algebra, Algebra II, GeometrySanta Clara Location*Registration Fee$50/yr.English Language Arts Only$150/mo.Math Only

READING INSTRUCTION / SESSIONS •For younger readers (K-4th grades), sessions grow a child's independent reading level through work on the following:~ Reading strategies and techniques for decoding ~ Fluency and expression ~ Thinking strategies to improve comprehension ~ Sound/letter recognition ~ Phonics/Sight Words ~ Confidence in learning •For older readers (4th-6th grades), sessions may include:~ Remediation for struggling readers ~ Training in strategies to build comprehension including inferencing, self-monitoring, making connections, predicting, clarifying, questioning, and evaluating ~ Fluency building
WRITING INSTRUCTION Individualized sessions are designed for each child's specific developmental needs as a writer.
Emerging Writers (K-2nd): For emerging writers, we focus on beginning story writing through a process called interactive writing (the sharing of the pen between teacher and student). This then moves into independent writing work. Creating a message, basic storytelling, translating sounds into print, letter formation, and familiarity with written word chunks and sight words are developed.
Young Writers (1st-3rd): As young writers progress, sessions focus on creative writing. We learn to develop story problems, characters, setting, dialogue and description to create interesting stories. We can also focus on how to collect information from nonfiction texts and then write about what we've learned (beginning research).
Upper Elementary/Middle School Writers (4th-8th): Individual sessions can focus on creative writing or supporting academic growth in writing. As kids transition into upper elementary and onto middle school, they are also developing and later refining writing skills in the formats of persuasive essay, literature response, summary, and expository writing. We support each writer to gain skills and confidence in each of these writing processes.
High School Writers (9th – 12th grades): Sessions at this level focus on literature response essay writing, research-based persuasive essays, and other forms of academic writing with attention to solid organization and thesis development, voice and audience awareness, advanced editing skills, and advanced critical thinking.
MIDDLE AND HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS Persuasive essays Research process and writing Literature Study and Response History Study and Response Critical thinking
COLLEGE PREPARATION Timed essays for SAT prep Support for college application essays

Boise, Idaho

<http://mathwithmrsfish.com>

Phone: 208-996-9889

Date of Approval: 7/16/2018

E-mail: mathwithmrsfish@gmail.com

Approved Services: Math with Mrs. Fish provides a complete math curriculum and online instruction for sixth and seventh graders. Students may enroll as an "advanced" student or for remediation. The classes meet online using Zoom on Tuesdays and Thursdays. Sixth grade classes are from 9:00 to 10:00. Seventh grade classes are from 10:30 to 11:30. The cost is $300 per semester. The curriculum is delivered digitally and is printed at home. The curriculum is 100% aligned to the Common Core State Standards, which means that any concept on the state standardized testing will be covered in class. The tone of the curriculum is conversational and frequently humorous. Laura Fischer, aka Mrs. Fish, has 30+ years of teaching experience and is a fully credentialed teacher in California. Middle school math is her passion and she has turned many math-haters into math-lovers (or, at least, math-tolerators).

I teach all grades from Kindergarten to 12th grade. Piano lesson books vary depending on age and experience. Each lesson goes over proper technique, music theory, rhythm and sight reading along with learning new songs each week that help us apply the new lesson materials. Private Voice Lessons Offering weekly one-on-one lessons for 30 min, 45 min or 60 minutes. Lessons for beginner students to those who have had past lessons. I teach all grades from Kindergarten to 12th grade. Each voice lesson focuses on pitch, tone, ear training, warm ups and breathing. We will pick a song that we have chosen to work through that will help us apply the different vocal techniques we are learning. Private Music Theory Lessons Music theory lessons focus on the basics of music theory all the way through to jazz theory. We will use a work book that gives each student homework pages to work on throughout the week at home. This class can be done via Skype or zoom each week, if in-person lessons are not an option.

Approved Services: Private piano lessons for beginner students using traditional methods. Our goal is the enjoyment and appreciation of music styles from classical to popular tunes. For kids (ages 5 yr. and up) I use Alfred's Music for Little Mozart's or the Faber and Faber series. These books develop a solid musical foundation from which more piano skills can be taught. For older kids (7-10 yr. and up) there are a variety of resources: Alfred's and Bastien's are excellent and teach on the same basic principles. Supplemental music can add interest (from movie/video game themes to popular tunes). The curriculum develops performance skills at the piano and focuses on rhythm, keyboard technique, pitch matching, and note and interval identification. Performance opportunities offered through optional recitals once or twice a year depending on number of students.

Approved Services: I teach private piano lessons using the Suzuki Method. Children are given one-on-one instruction once a week in the fundamentals of piano playing, including note-reading (using the Faber "Piano Adventures" books, MiniBooks by Suzanne Gore, and other supplementary materials), ear-training (using the Suzuki Method books and CDs), technique (scales, arpeggios, chords, etc.), music theory, and music history. Students give public recitals twice a year, performing both solo and ensemble music. Parents are very involved in the learning process, providing a musical environment for the children by attending lessons, playing recordings of the ear-training work, and assisting the children during home practice.

Approved Services: Reading and writing tutor for children grades K-8. Specialized tutoring for children with reading and comprehension challenges, getting them to grade level and above. Teaching methodologies include whole language, phonics and common core, in addition to customized lesson plans and materials. I teach one-on-one and small groups in person, plus WebEx for individuals. My journey as a reading specialist began when my own child started school and I realized he could not read like the other children. I began to read all available materials on the topic and took a series of reading specialist courses at his school district. These courses plus my studies at Davis prepared me to help children with all manner of reading and comprehension difficulties. It gave me the tools to offer specific solutions tailored to each child, not simply packets of work or generic instruction. I have helped hundreds of children per year for the last seven years on a tutoring basis and helping in the IEP classroom at the local schools. I offer students and their family the peace of mind that there is a road that leads to reading and comprehension, when it seems the problems are overwhelming. Reading is the foundation of all other knowledge, and comprehension of reading materials allows children to succeed in all other learning. I cannot work miracles and the process can be time consuming, but I never give up on a child ever! If they want to learn to read, then I will teach them. I give weekly detailed reports to parents and explain issues that need to be practiced during the week before I see the child next. I also offer children help in writing after they are proficient in grade level reading and comprehension. I can be reached at my cell phone: 808-782-2566. Call me today to schedule a free reading evaluation. Thanks, Michelle Thomas Approved Services: Private music lessons. Specializing in Trumpet, Piano, and Guitar. Courses follow a consistent, once-a-week (4x per month) agreed upon meetup time, where I teach students to read, write, and play music. Depending on the skill level of each individual, this addresses basic to advanced music reading and apprehension, musicianship, performance skills, theory knowledge, and instills a strong work ethic with a focus on learning how to practice. This applies more broadly to the concept of skill acquisition, i.e., how to utilize the skills learned from music and practice towards self-improvement in any realm of life.

I travel to groups whether they be in a home or @ a class location where many classes are offered. Students who enroll in multiple classes can learn creation techniques, developed their own styles & learn all about color through experimentation, & trial & error. Gardening-I provide gardening supplies like soil, starter pods, small pots, & seeds. In addition, I will teach some botany, water conservation, worm composting, composting, etc. & general growing tips. If in a home environment, I will help place plants properly, encourage growth to the best of my ability, If in a class environment, I provide paperwork to go over, activities, seeds, starters, & encourage students in the growth of their plants. Tutoring-Math-I grew up doing very well in math, up to calculus. I always loved it & not only tutored kids while I was in college, but helped my own homeschooled kids with their math too. English-I have always been passionate about proper English. I had rhyming games with my 3 kids, have fun together correcting each other, etc. I was raised partially in England & have a unique acceptance of everyone, no matter skill level, talent or background. I believe each student has his/her own expression & hope to help bring that out in each & every one.

Sherry Luiz - Scribe Tutorials

Tracy, California

www.scribetutorials.com

Phone: 209-914-3452

Date of Approval: 9/28/2017

E-mail: tutor@scribetutorials.com

Approved Services: The tutor, Sherry Luiz, is a former high school English teacher who has earned a degree in English, two California teaching credentials, and a Language Development Specialist certificate. Teaching writing classes to homeschoolers for twenty years, and a homeschooling mom herself, Mrs. Luiz is passionate about initiating students into the "mysteries" of good writing, striving to help all her pupils become competent in the craft. The following writing courses are taught live, online: Foundations in Writing Classes Fee: $650/yr. $325/semester Four Levels Beginning Foundations: Younger, less experienced students Intermediate Foundations: Students with some writing experience Advanced Foundations I: Older and/or more experienced students Advanced Foundation II: Older and/or more experienced students These writing classes are designed for students grades 6 - 8 and for older students needing basic writing instruction. We will build on the foundational writing skills of note-taking and summarizing. From this starting point, we will be learning and practicing a variety of composition forms: research reports, story critiques, narrative stories, and essays, including writing from prompts. Students will have an opportunity to "play" with language – using strong words, vivid imagery, sophisticated sentence structures and timely transitions. Grammar work and vocabulary will be covered. Students will receive personalized feedback on their writing. There is a literature component for the Intermediate, Advanced Foundations I, and Advanced Foundations II classes. We will be reading and talking about award-winning children's literature. My goal is to engage the students in reading, introducing them to elements of literature without overburdening them with busy work.

Reading lists can be found at my website: <http://www.scribetutorials.com/required-texts> Introduction to the Essay Fee: $700/yr. $350/semester Students in grades 8 – 10 (older students too!) tackle the standard in academic writing: the essay. The instructor will break down the elements of the essay from concise thesis statements and strong supporting paragraphs to engaging introductions and memorable conclusions. Students will practice their new skills with a variety of essay forms: expository, descriptive, persuasive, comparison, response to literature, and research. Class will include a grammar and vocabulary component. Students will receive personalized feedback on their writing. Introduction to Literary Analysis Fee: $700/yr. $350/semester This high school level class will introduce students to the art of writing about literature. We will be reading, primarily, a variety of short stories and students will practice recognizing story structure and literary elements and devices. Students will use this knowledge to analyze various stories and develop and defend theses in critical analysis paragraphs and essays. They will learn to quote from a source and cite it.

Approved Services: I provide comprehensive and enjoyable private music lessons on guitar and/or on piano. Music and mastery of an instrument is a great way to cultivate skills such as coordination, strength, and confidence, not to mention self-expression. This innovative program offers weekly lessons of 45 or 60 minute lessons at my home music studio in East Davis or in the parents' home, if a piano of sufficient keyboard or guitar is available. Cost is competitive, but affordable. Any level is welcome including beginners through advanced.
